2,997 violations of truce committed by the Regime and its Russian ally

After the Turkey and Russia reached a ceasefire agreement in Idlib governorate on March 5, 2020, the Syrian regime and its Russian ally did not bomb northwest Syria with warplanes. However, the regime continued to bomb these cities and towns with heavy artillery and rockets from ground launchers. On June 2, 2020, Russian warplanes resumed bombing cities and towns in northwest Syria, and the regime continued to bombard them with heavy artillery and rockets from ground launchers. Through its network of enumerators, ACU worked on documenting the regime's breach of the ceasefire. As of the date of preparing this report, the Syrian regime and its Russian ally have violated the ceasefire 2,997 times.

After the ceasefire came into effect, Turkish and Russian forces began conducting joint military patrols on the contact lines between the regime forces and the opposition forces, as these patrols run along the M4 international road. These joint forces aim to monitor the implementation of the ceasefire and de-escalation on the contact lines. However, Russian forces stopped participating in these patrols in mid-September 2020.

Northeast Syria

In the northern countryside of al-Hasaka, on January 22, 2022, the so-called Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF) imposed a security cordon around al-Kam prison for ISIS detainees in al-Shaddada sub-district, and clashes continued in the Ghweran neighborhood and the prison surroundings. Helicopters of the International Coalition bombed the wheat silos and the Institute of Technical Observers with several airstrikes, in which ISIS forces are holed up, which led to its destruction. On January 26, 2022, with the support of the International Coalition, SDF took control of the al-Sinaa'a prison in the Ghweran neighborhood, but artillery shelling was renewed on the Ghweran neighborhood at night amid reports of the presence of ISIS cells in the neighborhood. The International Coalition forces carried out an airdrop operation in al-Haddadiya town (al-Areesha), and two people were arrested during the landing process. Several humanitarian agencies stressed the need to protect detained children in al-Hasakah governorate, whose number is more than 850 children, no more than 12 years old, and most of whom are detained in al-Ghweran prison. Children are at risk in light of the clashes between SDF and ISIS fighters.
