Northeast Syria

In eastern Syria, on 22 September 2022, teachers carried out a general strike in several educational complexes in Deir ez-Zor and Al-Hasakah governorates to adjust monthly salaries and link them to the US Dollar commensurate with the living situation and the high prices of materials. Notably, the Autonomous Administration of the so-called Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF) continues to distribute salaries in Syrian pounds in light of the deterioration of their exchange rates against the US dollar. They called on the Education Authority to issue an immediate decision to stop the distribution of the new curriculum in Deir ez-Zor Governorate so that students could attend their schools. Most parents refused to send their children to schools due to the SDF's imposition of educational curricula that parents do not desire. Teachers also called on UNICEF to intervene to prevent SDF from attempting to change curricula, as schools in Deir ez-Zor Governorate have adopted the UNICEF accelerated curriculum during the past years. Clan elders, headed by the Sheikh of Al-Baggara Clan, Hajim Al-Bashir, issued a statement rejecting the teaching curricula imposed by SDF.

In the northern countryside of Al-Hasakeh on 22 September 2022, the so-called Syrian democratic forces (SDF) announced that they had thwarted a major plan for ISIS sleeper cells to attack Al Hol camp by preparing two car bombs. The cell was ambushed near the village of Um Fakik and clashed with it. As a result of the clash, the cell detonated one of the two car bombs. Three of the cell's members were killed, and one was injured. The second car was dismantled, and a tank with explosive materials weighing approximately 300 kg was found.

In eastern Deir ez-Zor, on 22 September 2022, SDF, with the support of the aviation of the international coalition, carried out a campaign of arrests in the towns of Zir and Kassar. The campaign resulted in the arrest of several young men after violent clashes between the two parties. International coalition helicopters dropped flare bombs in the desert of the town of Rweished in the early hours without knowing why.
